Acid Tossed on Witness in Texas Bribe Case

By MA XB. SKELON

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—An unidentified assailant last night splashed acid in the face of a prominent chiropractor who testified in an investigation of a bribe charge against State Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Dr. E. E. McMeans Jr., his left eye patched, said he had no idea who tossed the bottle of acid at him. He said he knew of no direct connection it could have with the Cox case. But Cox said he thought it was connected with the investigation of the bribe charges.

Texas Ranger Johnnie Klevenhagen, assigned to the case, said, "If the acid had hit him in the face full force he would not have had much face left. He got only the splatter."

McMeans left eye was practically closed when he lifted the patch for newsmen. The lower eyelid was a bluish color. He said there was a "little pain."

McMeans said he was leaving his clinic when the buzzer on the back door sounded. He said when he opened the door, someone threw a jar of liquid at him.

"It felt like fire hitting me," he said. "I ran into the flower shop next door. They have a sink with a faucet high in the air. I turned the faucet on full force. I believe that is what saved me from permanent injury."

Klevenhagen said florist Floyd Steward, 46, told him when McMeans ran in his shop, acid was still bubbling on his face.

McMeans, a Boy Scout leader and church deacon in this southeast Texas town, said he could see "some through the damaged eye, but it is very blurred."

"It may be the effects of the medication," however, he said.

In Austin, Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the State Department of Public Safety, said a preliminary report from Klevenhagen said the acid apparently was thrown from a fruit jar which smashed against a wall and spilled part of its contents in Dr. McMeans' face.

Conroe Chief of Police Eddie Stephan said a pharmacist identified the liquid as muriatic acid, the commercial name for hydrochloric acid.

Cox, 36, resigned as a member of the Texas House of Representatives after being indicted on a charge of agreeing to accept a $1,000 bribe to withdraw a bill he introduced that would outlaw the practice of naturopathic medicine in Texas. In testimony before the House Investigating Committee, Cox said he introduced the bill after discussing naturopaths with a chiropractor whom he identified as McMeans.

McMeans testified he had once discussed naturopaths with Cox. The charge against Cox was originated by Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Association, a group who stress natural therapy in healing rather than the use of drugs or surgery.

Negro Nation of Ghana Gets Its Freedom

By JOHN MCALI

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—The Negro nation of Ghana came into being today against a background of African paganism and call from its Prime Minister for total liberation of colonial Africa.

The red, gold and green flag of Ghana was run up in midnight ceremonies, replacing the British Union Jack and signifying formally the establishment of the first Negro nation in the British Commonwealth.

Mighty roars of "Freedom Freedom" rose from thousands of throats. Brilliant fireworks exploded against the sky and talking drums carried along the word of independence.

"We are no more slaves," Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah told a throng of 30,000 assembled at Accra's polo grounds. "Move about with your chest out."

Don't Laugh-Tomorrow You May Have the Gout

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is anything the average American knows less about than sex it is probably gout, a less widespread but even more troublesome affliction.

Gout partitions mankind into two distinct groups — those who laugh at gout, and those who have had gout.

A five-day siege in bed with my fourth attack of gout in 10 years has taught me who my true friends were. They were the visitors to my pallet of pain who listened respectfully to my tale of woe, and refrained from laughter until they had left.

The false friends were those who leered, "Been living too high, eh," and who then laughed in my face when I replied with dignity, "No, the Suez Canal is chiefly responsible for my gout."

Maybe you think it's funny, too, for a man to blame his gout on the Suez Canal. Well, gout on your ears and listen to facts you probably never knew about gout:

1. Gout, like baldness, is a highly masculine affliction.
2. Gout is rarely mortal. It gives you an overwhelming feeling of being mortal. The pain is roughly comparable to the sensation you might have if somehow a hibernating porcupine inside your foot suddenly awoke and tried to break out, pushing a thousand needles into your crying flesh.
3. Gout is like wealth. Most of those who have it inherited it, and therefore deserve neither credit nor blame.
4. Gout is as old as mankind, and it follows the invention of port wine.
5. Gout is a form of rheumatism or arthritis, a mouse, a horse or an elephant can get it, as well as an English lord—or you.
6. Gout specifically is an inflammation caused by an excess deposit of uric acid in a joint.

Whiskey Still Is Destroyed Near Here

Sheriff Deputies Heister and Arnett found and destroyed a 3-barrel moonshine liquor still this week about 12 miles south of Hope. Nobody was near the rig. Some 160 gallons of mash were destroyed by officers.

City to Assess Court Costs With Fines

Hope City Council passed an ordinance last night setting up court costs in addition to fines assessed all law violators. The emergency clause passed the measure will become effective at the next court session.

The group also entered into an agreement with Pete Martin for operating and managing municipal airport on a percentage basis. The resolution also contained a 30-day termination clause which allows either party to break the agreement. The measure sets up a certain amount of revenue as base pay for Mr. Martin and all over that amount a percentage will go into the Airport fund.

Mayor Olsen told the group that Hope could expect about $2,000 additional revenue as a result of a Legislative bill recently passed which gives cities and counties a large share of highway department funds. The Mayor said that next year the city would get about $37,193 where in the past it had received about $10,182. All the money must be used on city streets. The group also commended local Legislators for their work in getting the measure through.

The Mayor appointed a Rose Hill Cemetery Study group to contact all interested persons in regard to setting up some system to obtain money for taking care of the cemetery. The committee includes: Mrs. T. S. McDavitt, Mrs. Ched Hall, Mrs. Leon Bundy, Mrs. J. J. McCab, Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mrs. C. D. Lester and Harvey Barr.

The resignation of Eugene Cox, effective May 1, was accepted by the council. Mr. Cox is a health department worker and plans to retire.

"Many other issues" included complaints about picking up cans. The Council reminded that all cans must be placed in containers of some type and placed on the curb. If they should be overlooked the Health Department should be contacted. The group emphasized that the city workers could not hunt cans at the back of a house — they must be placed on the curb.

A committee of merchants looking into a privilege tax proposal suggested no such tax at this time. At one time it was suggested looking into a privilege tax in lieu of a sewage tax.

The group discussed but took no action on a health fund ordinance (the recently passed sewage tax) and contracts for leasing city-owned land.

Army Plans No Cut at Texarkana Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army says it has no plans at this time to withdraw any work from the Lone Star Ordnance Plant near Texarkana, Ark., for reassignment elsewhere.

In a letter to Sen. Fulbright (D. Ark.) who inquired about the status of the plant, the Army said current employment at Lone Star is about 940 and that this would level off at about 800.

"Of course we cannot give you any assurance regarding the future program at this time," Brig. Gen. J. E. Bastion wrote Fulbright. "You are assured, however, that the Ordnance Corps has no present plans to withdraw work from Lone Star for reassignment to other plants."

Bastion said the Army, within program limitations, is "doing everything possible to maintain steady employment" at Lone Star. Part of the plant is in Texas.

He noted, however, that since the Korean War ended there has been a steady decline in production at Lone Star and other similar ordnance plants; that employment had declined at all and that two have been shut down.

McCaskill Third in RCI Contest

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Craighead community of Antioch last night was named "rural community of the year" by the Agricultural Extension Service.

The community was cited for its improvement throughout the past year in home management, farming systems and community activities.

The contest is sponsored annually by the Agricultural Extension Service with the cooperation of the Arkansas Power and Light Co., the Arkansas Press Association and the Arkansas Council of Churches.

Mount Comfort, McCaskill and Tollyville were rated second, third and fourth respectively.

Quick Passage of Middle East Program Likely

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate version of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution was given a "good chance" today of speedy House passage right onto the White House.

The word came from House leadership sources as they examined the measure passed by the Senate last night, 72-19.

The resolution serves notice on the Kremlin that America will fight, if necessary, against Communist attack in the strategic Middle East. And it would give Eisenhower more freedom in spending up to 200 million dollars in military-economic aid to that area between now and July 1.

The House first passed the resolution 355-61 on Jan. 30 almost exactly as Eisenhower requested. The Senate put in a number of changes in a lengthy debate which delayed passage for two months after Eisenhower's original urgent request.

"On the final Senate vote, 30 Democrats and 42 Republicans were counted for, while 16 Democrats joined Republicans McCarthy (Wis.), Jenner (Ind.) and Malone (Nev.) in opposing."

Secretary of State Dulles last night gave quick approval to the Senate version, saying "the substance in the same" as in the House bill.

Co-op Plans to Improve 'Phone Exchanges

The Southwest Arkansas Telephone Cooperative, Inc., is formulating plans for an expansion program to include Washington, Ozark and Columbus in Hempstead County. Columbus and Ozark have already been purchased by the Cooperative and plans are to purchase Washington this week.

"In the Hempstead area, a number of people have been in need of telephones for some time. Others have been served with typical rural battery-type phones. The co-op will be able to furnish modern dial service to those applicants who are recognizing the economy of satisfactory rural telephone service," said Woodrow W. Miner, Manager of the co-op.

Obsolete equipment will be replaced by modern dial equipment, and service will be available to those applicants not receiving service at present," he said.

Miner estimates the cut-over date to dial service in these locals will be sometime in the early part of 1958.

"The people are organized in a mutual effort, and when all are pulling together there is nothing to slow the progress," Miner said. "Rural people are fast awaking to the fact that co-operatives are strictly democratic, economical and satisfactory. No member of the co-op can hold more than one membership has one vote and only one in the co-operative affairs."

"The Board of Directors is elected by the members to represent the Co-op in business matters, and employ bonded personnel for handling funds, and maintaining records. It is a non-profit enterprise. There will be no declaring of dividends on surplus; but costs of service will be reduced, instead, to keep revenues and expenses equal after REA loan payments are met," Miner said.

"Where co-operation is assured and satisfactory progress is made on early sections of the loan; REA, being a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, does not hesitate to make possible the provision of phones that will accommodate the backbone of the nation, the farmers and ranchers of the United States," said Miner.

"We are confident in our progress," Miner concluded. "And proud with the response we are receiving at every phase of development."

Dr. Moore to Speak Wednesday Night

Rev. Virgil D. Keeley, pastor of First Methodist Church, announced today that Dr. R. B. Moore, District Superintendent of the Hope District, will speak at services Wednesday night at 7:30. Dr. Moore's subject will be: "A Time of Great Decision."

Dr. Moore is one of several guest speakers to appear on the local church's observance of the "Week of Dedication." Special music and the inspirational singing, is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Fulwider of Austin, Texas.

No Job for Ex-Republican Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has come up with no job for Leonard W. Hill and congressional friends fear the former GOP national chairman may be bypassed.

Hill, back from a Florida vacation, has told friends he hasn't been approached about any appointment such as that he generally was expected to get when he resigned his chairmanship in January.

At last time, President Eisenhower expressed the hope Hill's "wisdom and long experience" will continue to be available, not only to the party but to the nation in the years ahead.

As an indication of how they feel about Hill, Republican leaders of the Senate and House have arranged to give him a cocktail party in the Senate Office Building tomorrow. They have invited all Republican members of Congress.

Hill's friends believe he wants to run for governor of New York next year and would like to have a presidential appointment for a few months that would keep him in the limelight.

There is evidence that Hill hoped for a Cabinet appointment, but none has opened up. He apparently does not want to head any government commission, but would prefer to keep close contact with Eisenhower.

Bishop Is Speaker at Lions Luncheon

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt was guest speaker at the Hope Lions Club luncheon Monday noon at the Hotel Barlow. Bishop Holt, who is the titular head of the Methodist Church, spoke on "Religion in Democracy."

Kindred Young was in charge of the program and presented Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fulwider of the First Methodist Church in Austin, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Fulwider rendered two musical numbers to the club.

Lion president Bill Roulton turned the program to Rev. Virgil D. Keeley, who introduced the Bishop. Guests of the club were Mrs. Keeley, Mrs. Roulton, Mrs. B. C. Hyatt and Mrs. Eva Reynerson.

The Lions Membership drive Banquet will be held at the Barlow next Monday night at 7 p. m.

Israel Forces Are Leaving Gaza Area

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Israeli forces are withdrawing from the Gaza strip.

The last Israeli civil and military administrators were to be out by 9 p. m. (Israeli time), bringing to a virtual end the four-month-old invasion of Egypt.

Helicopter of the United Nations emergency force (UNEF) patrolled the Israeli-Egyptian border as long convoys of Indian, Swedish and Columbian units moved up to take the place of the departing Israeli forces.

It was the climax to weeks of painful negotiations which even until this morning remained in doubt.

Israeli premier David Ben-Gurion had promised the withdrawal as an "act of faith" in the United States and the U. N., but it was not until this morning that "the 'knesset' (parliament) gave him three votes of confidence which—officially—permitted the withdrawal."

There still was no official word on the withdrawal of other Israeli forces from Sharm El Sheikh along the coast of the Gulf of Aqaba. Israeli flags still flew from gulf coast positions but heavy equipment already had been loaded and final withdrawal was only a matter of giving the word.

Official sources said the much more complicated withdrawal from Gaza would be completed as the withdrawal was being accomplished without difficulty.

Road Bill Signed by the Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Gov. Orval Faubus yesterday signed a bill to add 10 to 12 miles of rural roads to the state highway system, maintaining that the state Highway Commission had the power to make the final decision on which roads go into the system.

But Highway Director Herbert Eldridge said the commission "could not say no" to the addition of any road despite a restriction in provision inserted at Eldridge's request.

Under the bill a committee consisting of the county judge and the county's legislature would determine which roads should be added.

Witness in Union Rackets Probe to Take Lie Test

By HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP)—Nate Zusman, dapper Portland, Ore., night club operator, will take a lie detector test today on his denial that he encouraged a madam to set up a call house.

"The Senate Labor Rackets committee look up Zusman on his repeated demands for a lie detector test. Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said it would be administered later today by the Secret Service and the results made a part of the committee's record."

Zusman first insisted that the test be given also to "Big Helen" Hardy, a party Portland madam who swore he offered to finance her call house and assured her that District Attorney William M. Langley would not molest it.

McClellan said he could not order Zusman to take the test, but since the witness asked for it he "was willing to 'accommodate' him". He said he did not know if Helen Hardy would volunteer to take the test also.

Zusman, who spluttered "that's a lie" when confronted with the madam's testimony, hesitated. He conferred with his attorney. McClellan remarked that if the test showed "Zusman was not lying and Helen Hardy refused to take it 'then . . .'"

"I'll take the test sir," Zusman broke in.

One member of the rackets committee, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC.) served notice immediately that he puts on faith in a lie detector test.

House Talks Up Two for Next Speaker

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Petitions are being circulated in the Arkansas house for support of two candidates for speaker of the 1959 session.

Veteran members said today it was an unprecedented action.

The older members of the House were apparently supporting Rep. Gene Fleaman of Mississippi county, and Re. Jack Oakes of Woodruff county appeared to be getting his support from the younger members.

The speaker is elected by the house membership on the opening day of the session.

The election, however, is a mere routine formality. It is usually decided not more than a couple of months before the session. The usual practice is for the members to commit themselves to support a representative who has been approved by the governor.

Logically, the petitions are normally circulated after the November general election.

The reasoning behind the petitions at this time when nobody can tell which house members will return, as not been revealed.

But the older members appear displeased. They appear to be in the minority, with Oakes receiving the majority of the support.

Funds for Foreign Aid to Be Voted

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's raining ideas on what to do about foreign aid. When the rains over, you can be sure Congress will go right on voting money for foreign aid.

Congress has voted more than 50 billion dollars in economic and military assistance to other countries since the Marshall Plan began in 1948. But this year, as in years past, the two main points are still these:

1. How much money will Congress approve.
2. Will it still vote it on a year-by-year basis only or will it this time change and agree to long-term commitments to permit long-range planning — like water development — among nations getting American money.

There has been growing hostility in Congress to continuing foreign aid at all. This shows it. Only seven senators voted against start of the Marshall Plan nine years ago; last year 30 senators voted against foreign aid.

Last year Congress cut billion dollars off President Eisenhower's foreign aid request. He got $3,800,000,000. This year he has asked for $4,383,000,000. That will probably be trimmed too.

Already some members of Congress — particularly Eisenhower own Republicans — are talking of lopping up to seven billion dollars off his total budget request for $71,800,000,000.

Because of the criticism of the foreign aid program — the opposition to it and the questions raised about — at least 23 separate studies of foreign aid problems have been made in this capital since last summer.

All should be finished and made public by the end of March. Not one study so far released has suggested ending foreign aid. Some suggested it be put on a long-range basis.

Those 23 studies fall into three main groups:

1. The House Foreign Affairs Committee, after months of examination, issued last December a report which said foreign aid should be continued, but cut, and that the economic part of it should be in loans, not gifts, even though some of the loans are never paid back.

The idea was that countries which had to pay back the money, or thought they would be expected to, would be more careful how they spent it.

2. Last summer the Senate voted $293,000 for a special committee to make a study. It hired 11 research organizations to study separate problems of foreign aid and sent 10 prominent Americans to various areas receiving American help.

The reports from these groups and individuals are now being released in a steady flow.

3. Meanwhile, Eisenhower last September created a special seven-man commission of distinguished citizens — headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless — suffering from an inborn defect in the metabolism of purines and a deficiency in steroid hormones.

Gout is not, as the ignorant assume, confined to the big toe. It can hit you in almost any joint, including a night club. I used to be a ball-of-the-foot gout man. At the moment I'm an ankle gout man.

Gout above the neckline is unknown, so far as I can find. Unfortunately for those who would prefer a quieter world, gout does not seem to attack the jawbone.

It can be precipitated by a surgical operation or injury, by undue physical or mental exertion, by a change in the weather, by certain drugs, or by an emotional shock — such as receiving unexpected praise from your wife, an unlooked-for pay hike from your boss, or a summons to explain your 1955 income tax return.

Now about my own gout attack, and why I hold the Suez Canal to blame.

For weeks, purely in the public interest, I had been cudgeling my brains over the Suez Canal crisis, hoping to find a way to help Ben-Gurion and Nasser in their mutual efforts toward peace — and thus give John Foster Dulles a breather between this crisis and the next one.

Well, sir — unaccustomed as I am to public thinking — the mental strain, helped along by two days of rainy weather, caused my purines and steroid hormones to back up — and down I came with the gout.

Now that the clouds are clearing over the Suez crisis, my purines are floating like soap bubbles, and my steroid hormones are again humming like larks in all my arterial highways.

Gout, the curse of all us abstemious, high-thinking intellectuals, has fled my foot.

Don't laugh. Think. Tomorrow you may wake up with the purine in your own foot.

to study foreign aid and report to him.

Members of this commission traveled around the earth and yesterday its report to the President was made public.

The President's commission reported: The mutual security program must be continued for "years to come. It urged more loans, fewer gifts. It suggested drastic cuts in the number of foreign aid projects, but didn't say the total amount of money for foreign aid should be reduced.

One of the Senate committees study groups — the Center for International Studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology — said development assistance programs if they are to have good results, should cover at least 5 to 10 years.

No New Cases of Polio in State

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Arkansas has gone through another week with no new cases of polio reported to the State Board of Health.

The state has had only two cases of polio this year, compared with nine through the ninth week of 1956.

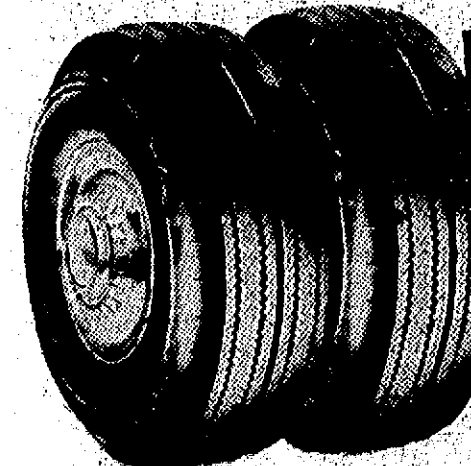

The incidence of measles, German measles and chickenpox was up for the week ending last Saturday, but down for mumps.

Okays Sales Tax on Liquor Sales

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to remove the sales tax exemption on liquor in Arkansas after Sen. Jack Clark of Texarkana expressed his approval.

The bill, approved by a vote of 34-0 now goes to the governor.

"Miller County is receiving $219,000 in additional revenue under the new tax program and feel we should do our part," Clark said.

"Furthermore the sale of liquor is a privilege business and people do not have to buy it as they do necessities such as medicine, groceries and clothes.

Other items are exempt from the sales tax on the theory that adjacent Texarkana, Tex., assesses no sales tax and would have a big advantage over merchants on the Arkansas side of the state line.

Gov. Orval Faubus said that he approved of collecting the sales tax on liquor in Texarkana because adjoining Bowie County, Texas is dry.

House Recalls Bill Adding to Truck Loads

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The House late yesterday called back from the Senate a bill which had passed both branches to increase the maximum overall load limit for trucks using the state's highways.

The measure had been approved in the Senate, 18-14, shortly before the House voted for its recall.

The House, which passed the bill, 69-2, on Feb. 21, voted 57-23 to ask the Senate to return it for reconsideration.

The Senate could refuse to give up the bill, but customarily one branch grants a request of the other for return.

Rep. William H. Thompson of Polk County moved for the recall and was supported by several other representatives.

Rep. Charlie G. Johnston of Craighead, a House sponsor of the bill, spoke against recall.

Both Johnston and Thompson brought the name of Chief Engineer Ward Goodman of the Highway Department into the discussion.

Johnston said the bill had been drawn with Goodman's help and had his approval.

Thompson said he had telephoned Goodman, who was ill at his home, a half hour before and that the engineer did not approve the measure.

Thompson and his backers said the increase in maximum weight would add to the breaking up of highways by overloaded trucks.

Johnston denied that this would happen and said the bill had been drafted to make Arkansas truck weight specifications conform to federal law.

The bill would increase the general limit to 62,000 pounds from the 56,000 pounds provided in a 1935 act but also would add a section that "nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize any loading without special permit in excess of an overall gross weight of 73,200 pounds, which is identified in the measure as the maximum permitted under a 1935 federal law.

The House passed, 77-5, a Senate bill to levy an Arkansas license fee for interstate buses on a formula involving the percentage operation in Arkansas as compared to total operation.

Thompson opposed the bill, saying it would amount to a reduction in license fees.

An administration-backed Senate bill to set up a statewide corporation to assist in financing Arkansas' industrialization program was passed, 78-5, after only Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski spoke against the measure.

The House passed a bill to appropriate $210,000 for the proposed national park at the Civil War battle site of Pea Ridge in Benton County. Defeated, but left open for possible reconsideration, was another bill which would have appropriated $50,000 for improvement of the Prairie Grove battlefield in Washington County.

The House also passed a batch of routine appropriation bills and on reconsideration approved a once-defeated bill to give all judges a salary increase retroactive to Jan. 1.

The Senate yesterday approved a plan to admit paying patients to the Medical Center at Little Rock. The resolution by Sen. Bob Harvey of Swifton was adopted with only light opposition.

Sen. C. E. Yingling of Searcy said that the plan would relieve overcrowded private hospitals.

Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock called the resolution a step toward socialized medicine.

A bill to make roads and drives inside the University of Arkansas and state-supported colleges a part of the Arkansas highway system was sponsored by Sen. Robert Hays Williams of Russellville, who said less than 30 miles would be involved.

Four amendments to limit the legalized gambling proposal to Garland County were approved by the Senate. They were identical to four adopted yesterday by the House.

Sen. Q. Byron Hurst of Hot Springs, who offered the amendments, said they would make the gambling bill "more acceptable."

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend's in the Army, and is stationed in Germany. He writes me about once a month, saying he loves me, but he often writes to my brother telling about the girls he's met over there. Should I write an ask him about these girls or wait and let him mention them first?

Sunny: First of all, discount those words of love. A boy who was sincere would write more than once a month, and wouldn't write admiringly about other girls.

Try going out and having a good time yourself, and then writing him about it. You may jolt his sense of consideration and fairness into place.

House Permits Sale of Beer in Dry Areas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The House today passed 63-29 a bill to permit dry counties or municipalities to authorize off-premises sale of beer.

Local option elections would be held at the date of biennial general elections on initiating petitions.

Rep. J. H. Moody of White County, author of the bill, explained that it would not allow establishment of beer taverns in dry counties.

ties in most counties now legally dry, both "hard" liquor and beer sales are forbidden.

The Moody bill, which now goes to the Senate, would not affect the prohibition against liquor sales. The House, which has been larry in the past of any limitation on the power of county judges, today passed a bill to require that any agreements for road work or for use of road equipment made by the judges be written contracts.

The vote was 61-9.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Russell J. Benton of Fulton and adopted without discussion.

UN Suspends Debate Over Middle East

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Faced with widely divergent views over steps to be taken in Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba areas after Israel withdraws, the U.N. Assembly suspended its debate today to await developments.

No date was fixed for the next meeting, but the Assembly was expected to convene later this week to hear a report from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

No opposition was expressed to the temporary takeover of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba by the U.N. Emergency Force. But there was widespread difference of opinion on these two questions:

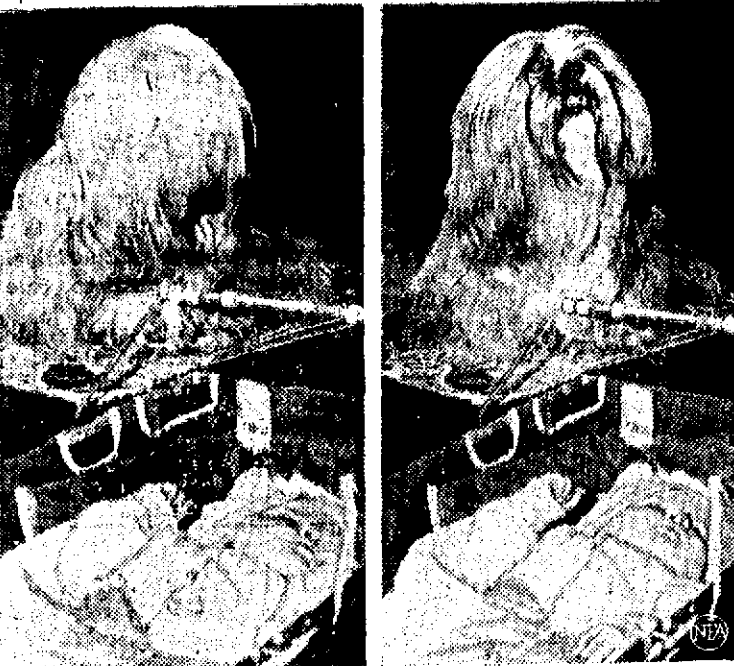

1. The right of free passage through the Strait of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba as demanded by Israel and upheld by the United States and other maritime powers.

2. The eventual administration of the Gaza Strip and its 300,000 Arabs, two thirds of them Palestine refugees living on U.N. relief allotments.

Britain, Italy, the Netherlands and Belgium were among the maritime powers lining up in the Assembly with the United States in contending that the Strait of Tiran is an international waterway through which Israeli and other shipping is entitled to free passage.

British Minister of State Allan Noble said, "There is no reason to think that any attempt will be made to interfere with free and innocent passage through the strait."

An Israeli delegation source said that his country in its negotiations in recent weeks, especially in Washington, had achieved "very close to the guarantee" of free passage which Israel sought.

Helen Jagger was still behind the desk when Morgan came striding into the hotel lobby. "Room four," Helen said. Her eyes fell to the ledger over which she had been working.

But Mohammed Fadhil Jamali of Arab Iraq said this was only one aspect of the Palestine problem.

"We cannot consider passage through the Gulf of Aqaba as different from the passage of Palestine Arab refugees to their own homes," he declared.

Rating Turns Trick — Opera Is Dropped

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Heard while cavedropping:

Man — "It's a shame Ed Sullivan terminated his contract with the Metropolitan Opera before the original expiration date."

Wife — "Why is it you don't like opera?"

Man — "I'm not thinking of myself. I'm thinking how it shows TV programming is absolutely yoked to the audience rating figures. Just because Sullivan's audience fell off when he presented opera stars singing he—"

Wife — "Just because what do you want Sullivan to do—change to you."

"For what's happened, Helen," Morgan said, "I'm deeply sorry. I don't have the words to say any more than that."

"You're saying them very well," said Helen in a low, strained voice.

"The net ones aren't going to be said as well. I just want you to know that what's going to happen had to happen. I know, I'll be blamed for it, but Helen, please believe me, it can't be helped. I can't stop it any more than I could stop the moon from wailing and wailing. It's inevitable—"

She was looking at him. "What are you talking about I don't understand."

"You will tomorrow. And you'll probably hate me even more than you do now."

Morgan was waiting for her in the lobby when Cass Simcoe descended the stairs at precisely three minutes after six. Three minutes late—purposefully. At the school in St. Louis they had said five minutes.

"Hi, Reb, that Morgan was about to utter died stillborn."

He did not kiss her. He wanted to, but the satin evening gown she wore held him off. He gripped her hand savagely and Cass returned his pressure, even though or hurt from his grip.

"It's wonderful," she gushed in a restrained sort of way. "I've been looking forward to this for so long."

"So was I," said Morgan, "but I didn't know it. He grined. "Wasn't a day I didn't think about you."

"I thought of you twice a week, Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons," smiled Cass, then added mischievously, "They kept me at my lessons all the rest of the time."

They went into their dining room and for a while Morgan kept looking toward the door, expecting Helen Jagger to make her appearance; when she did not, he realized that she was purposely keeping out of the way.

The food came and Cass knew the proper knife and fork, the correct spoon. She talked of her school in St. Louis and said that she was not going back even though the general had written her that he thought another year would be right and proper.

"I'm going home with Dad," she said wistfully. "I'm going to ride town. The Trail with him and the boys and I'm never going to leave Texas again."

She paused then and it would have been the moment for the right man to say the right words about changing her mind.

Morgan didn't say the words and the animation that had seeped through Cass's veneer of poise began to draw away from her. She became nervous and when the dessert had been eaten, Cass was actually relieved to see Morgan take out his watch. Looking at it, he said, "Cass, this job of being mayor has its drawbacks. There's a meeting of the board of supervisors at eight o'clock; that I've got to attend."

"Of course," said Cass, "I'm going to bed early, unless—unless Dad happens to show up this evening."

During the almost two hours they had been together they had not talked about anything but they could not have dispensed in the hotel lobby with 20 people standing around, all with big ears.

The meeting that evening in the courtroom above the jail was the most momentous one ever held by the board of supervisors in its entire existence. The supervisors, already informed by Alfred Huffington, listened with complete attention while Morgan read from a sheet of paper that he had prepared previously.

"Resolved: That the city of Pawnee City, Kan., authorized the Mayor to prepare and have printed a number of circulars which are to be distributed during the next three months, via U.S. Mail, to various persons in the state of Texas. Said circulars are to contain the following message in essence: To wit: Grazing grounds in and about Pawnee City are no longer available. The merchants and businessmen of Pawnee City points, stockyards and loading pens are now available at points on the Kansas Colorado RR. which are considerably closer to Texas than Pawnee City. It is suggested that cattlemen who formerly drove herds after Jan. 1, 1950, to other shipping points."

Alfred Huffington rose to his feet. "I make a motion that we unanimously approve Mr. Morgan's statement."

"Aye!" said every man in the courtroom.

Morgan said: "I have made a copy of this resolution. All of us will sign it and I will then have the copy sent over to Mr. Jagger by special messenger."

Senate Ready With Warning to Russia

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate may complete its action today on a warning to Russia that the United States will fight if necessary, to preserve Middle East independence against any armed aggression.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority leader, told reporters he has "strong hopes for adoption of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution before quitting time tonight."

The House passed the resolution overwhelmingly in somewhat different or look at it only an hour or two a week. Granted, television should be able to stimulate interest in opera in many. I think NBC's operas in English do that. But under the rules of the ratings game as it's now played, should we expect Sullivan to do it?

Man doleily — "No, I guess we should not."

More Loans to Be Suggested to Congress

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional calls for foreign aid cuts greeted today a presidential commission's recommendation that the assistance program be continued at its current spending rate.

The seven-member commission headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless proposed that the program be changed, however, to include more loans and fewer direct grants, to spur more private development, and to permit longer range planning of projects.

It expressed hope spending eventually can be cut, but added, "The United States must resolve to stay the course, and must abandon the false hope that collective security costs are temporary."

The report was made public at the White House yesterday. President Eisenhower, who named the citizens' advisory group five months ago to make the study, will consider the recommendations in drawing up his own foreign aid message to Congress.

Initial comment from Congress members praised some sections of the report and criticized others.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said he thought the commission "set its sights on the yearly level of aid too high," but expressed satisfaction at the "emphasis on loans, rather than grants."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH.) said he was disappointed the group "apparently feels that foreign aid, in sizable amounts, must be continued into the indefinite future."

Rep. Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.)

feared from several weeks ago.

Foreign Aid Director John B. Hollister said final congressional action will speed a U.S. fact-finding mission to the Middle East "to show we mean business" on a concurrent program of aid. The mission is headed by former Rep. James P. Richards (D-SC).

In addition to its military provisions, the resolution would relax restrictions on 200 million dollars of available aid funds which could be used for either military or economic assistance in the Middle East.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), sponsor of three amendments, said he might be satisfied with a standing vote to make a record of his insistence that the resolution should include "policy suggestions" for solving the Arab-Israeli dispute the opening of Middle East waterways to shipping of all nations. The opposition lost its major battle Saturday when the Senate defeated 58-28 an amendment to strip all economic authority from the proposals.

House Would Require GOP Primary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House today passed 68-6 a Senate bill designed to require the Republican Party to hold primaries.

The bill, which now goes to Gov. Orval Faubus, would provide that no one could be declared a party nominee without having been chosen at a primary, except in case of a vacancy.

Township and municipal officers would be exempt.

The bill also would impose penalties for anyone voting in conflicting party primaries.

The two Republican members of the House split on the bill, which was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Guy Jones of Conway.

Rep. F. A. Teague of Carroll County supported the measure, saying that all the Republicans have now "is the silk stocking crowd and the ex-postmasters."

"They don't want a party; all they want is patronage when the party is in power nationally."

Rep. Quinton R. Clark of Newton, the other House Republican, opposed the bill in a very brief speech.

He wanted to know "whose going to pay for these primaries and added, 'there are going to be a lot of House members two years from now asking themselves why they voted for this bill.'" agreed.

But Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said,

"The report shows that when intelligent, practical men who are used to responsibility take time to study our foreign assistance programs, they realize the vital necessity of maintaining our collective security."

Forestry Demonstration On On Selective Cutting And Estimating To Be Held
There will be a forestry demonstration conducted on Mr. Shep Jacksons farm about five miles Southwest of Hope on the Patmos Highway, Friday, March 8, at 9:00 a. m.

The best information available will be given on "selective cutting of timber," and "how to estimate standing timber" by Mr.
Dean Wallace, Extension Forest Products Marketing Specialist of the University of Arkansas.

Today more and more farm people are improving their farm forest. Timber is growing more important every day. Therefore, we feel that it is of vast concern to all who are interested now, to those who might be interested in the future to avail themselves of any information they can get.
You will know more about improving your timber stand; you will know more about selling forest products after attending this demonstration.

According to Mr. C. B. Smith,
Assistant County Agent for Negroes, you will enjoy the information that will be given, and it offers an excellent opportunity for you to become aware of the common errors we are making in our farm forest.

This demonstration is made available for your consideration and use. Let's go out and accept it.

Directions for getting to the Jackson farm: When you get to Hope, go out Main street past Hempstead County Memorial Hospital and turn on the Patmos road and travel it until you get to the first crossroads. Turn left and travel straight for about a mile, then turn right, and the first house you get to will be the Jackson home.
There will be signs along the way to direct you.

ball capital of Arkansas rolled out the red carpet of welcome this week for the states most ardent cage fans who converged on this Northwest Arkansas city for the annual Class A senior boys state tournament.

Motels, hotels and rooming houses filled quickly and tourney officials expected both attendance and gross receipt records to go tumbling.

When the tourney was held here in 1954, 13,054 people paid to see the 5-day prep shindig, with the gross receipts totaling $10,374.
That means that an average of 7,000 fans will have to attend each of the eight sessions to set a new record.

And with the teams competing in this years meet, a new record could easily be attained. Jonesboro hosts Golden Hurricane in the tourney for the 22nd straight time, while nearby Leachville and Hoxi also assure the tourney of excellent crowds for three of the sessions.

Each of the Arkansas Athletic Associations eight geographical districts sent two teams to the meet, so that means that all of the state will be well represented.
Even the fact that the customary Big Eight teams are not here this year does not seem to be bothering the tourney at all, as some speculated, for the basketball fever is as high as ever before.

Arkansas State athletic officials busily prepared for the tourney ever since the bid was accepted, but the wheels of progress really began turning early this week when all the facilities were made ready.

The gigantic scoreboard with the names, numbers, fouls, score, and other data again was put in operation, along with the big map of Arkansas with each of the 46 teams entered represented with a light. As a team is beaten, its light is extinguished, until there is only one light left shining.

Press headquarters for working newsmen and radio men have been set up in a room upstairs in the gym, with a Western Union ticker service, typewriters, phones and all other necessary equipment easily within reach.

The A-State News Bureau also will provide newsmen with mimeographed copies of each box score within fifteen minutes after the completion of each game.

For radio listeners, the Indian Sports Network will handle every game of the gigantic dribble derby and "feed to stations all over the state. Arkansas State radio students will handle the play-by-play, as they have for all games this year.

Jonesboro civic clubs are sponsoring barbecues, tours of the city, and other delights for fans, to
On the A-State campus, fraternities and sororities are joining in to make the high school spectators tour hearths and hold open houses during the day.

Arkansas State Athletic Director
J. A. (Uke) Tomlinson, who also serves as president of the American College Baseball Coaches Association, is directing the tourney, assisted by the entire athletic staff and college faculty.

Tomlinson directed the 65' and 1954 state tourneys at A-State and also has served as director for the mammoth 32-team Northeast Arkansas invitational tourney for the past ten years, so he should have plenty of experience at the job.

Holdouts Set Price and They Mean It

By ED CORRIGAN
Of the Associated Press

When Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and Gil Coan of the Detroit Tigers set a price on their services, man, they mean it.
Burdette, a 19-game winner for the Braves last season, has packed up his family, left camp at Bradenton, Fla., and today was vacationing with friends waiting for the club to make the next move.

Coan was even more emphatic.
He has decided to ask Commissioner Ford Frick to place him on the voluntary retired list after failing to reach an agreement with the Tigers after being drafted from Minneapolis of the American Association.

The Boston Red Sox, too, are having their troubles bringing outfielder Jim Peirsall into the fold.
But his case isn't quite so serious.
He has reported to the Sox camp in Sarasota, Fla., and is in top shape.

Burdette and Coan both appeared bitter over their treatment.

"They can't starve me out," snapped Burdette, the last of the Braves holdouts. "I don't have to worry about living expenses. I'm doing all right selling lots here."

"I had a good season last year and that's the time to strike — when the iron is hot. I'm not going to budge from the figure I want."

Said General Manager Bob
Quinn cryptically:
"We have exchanged ideas."

Coan, a 32-year-old outfielder who toiled for the Washington Senators for several years, said he was holding up his letter to Frick until he hears from Johnny McHale, Tiger personnel director.

"If they pay what I asked," he bittered, "I'll play. If they don't, I'm through."

Piersall reportedly is seeking a 7,500 raise for his .293 batting average of last season.

The Chicago White Sox had good news from their holdout front Ellis Kinder, 42, of the pitching corps agreed to a contract by phone and is heading for camp at Tampa, Fla.

Pearl Buck Turns to TV Writing

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Pearl Buck, winner of the Nobel Prize for literature, has published 21 novels, 12 works of nonfiction, nine juveniles and numerous short stories and articles. She is, in short, one of the most firmly established and widely read of contemporary American writers.

So it is interesting to learn that she has seriously launched herself on a career of writing television dramas in addition to continuing her other work.

Tonight the Robert Montgomery Theater presents her second TV drama, "The Enemy," which concerns a young Japanese surgeon and his wife who try to help an American sailor washed up on the Japanese coast during World War II. All except one of the members of the cast are Oriental.

Miss Buck's first TV drama,
"The Big Wave," received widespread critical approval. But that did not cause her to write a second or plan to go on to write original TV dramas not based in her previously published works.

"I enjoy the compactness and directness of the television form," she said. "You simply portray your characters and do not worry about background. It is much easier to do than the novel. I like to work straight with character."

A woman who looks much younger than her 64 years, Miss Buck on five mornings a week begins work at 8:15 at her rural home in Bucks County, Pa. She writes for four hours whether she feels like it or not. In the afternoons she writes for three or four hours. Week-ends she writes when to spirit moves her — which is frequently; when she is not occupied with her children. In private life she is Mrs. Richard Walsh.

The only locomotive in history which operated in all 48 states is the diesel engine which pulled

Colleoni to Make 3rd Try at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS — A runner-up in both of his two previous appearances here, H. H. Mundy's Colleoni was to make a third try for the victors laurels today against six other sprinters in the featured $2,800 Fraternal Day Purse at Oaklawn Park.

The 5-year-old-son of the great sire Nashrullah finished only a half length behind All Comers, his only male, in the opening day inaugural Handicap. He was beaten a length and a half 1st Friday by Court Dowd in the Airlines Day Purse.

Both of these events were at the 5 1/2 furlongs distance while todays feature was at 6 furlongs, which may benefit the fast-closing Colleoni.

Among those opposing the Mundy speedster were the Brand
H. Stable's Rock pilot, another 5-year-old, who compiled an impressive record last year.

Rock Pilot, who was making his first 1957 start, won five of his 14 races last year and finished out of the money in only two. As a juvenile he finished either second or third in several major stake races.

The Brand H. ace carried high weight of 116 pounds, six more than assigned to Colleoni who is the probable favorite. Others in the small field are J. Ross Will Mearns, R. K. Brown's Bossy
Flossy, Charles Fritz's E. b. o. y Beauty, N. Abdouche's Midnight O
and H. Well's Calloway K.

Will Mearns, who performs well on an off track as well as a fast one, finished third behind Manas-

In yesterday's featured $2,700
Hot Springs Showman's Association Purse, High Authority had already defeated seven other sprinters. A second betting choice, he paid $9.80, $4.80 and $3.40.

Bob Knight and Federal Dream paid $30.40 in the daily double.
A crowd of 6,312 wagered $375, 488.

Danny Lewis Cast in Part for a Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There was a familiar look about the dapper gentleman behind the piano in a night club scene.

Danny Lewis was his name. And he looked just like Jerry Lewis.
Naturally, Danny is Jerry's dad.

"Was I nervous?" Danny said.
After he finished the scene, "You know this is my first go at movies.
Thirty years in show business, and I've never been in pictures."

"It was tough work. I had to do three things — finger the piano, which I've never played, sing a song and feed my lines. I gotta think about the camera, the lights and all that. But I came through all right. Everybody said I did great."

Show business is Danny's life, always has been. So its no wonder he's excited about the prospect of a new career. He told how it came about.

Danny took a long - time pal to Paramount to see about an acting job. The pal turned the tables on him and suggested Danny for a part. The casting man knew of the one-day part for a piano player in "Short Cut to Hell," suggested Danny for it.
